In every corner of the town,
The flaming hand-bills say,
That Sells' Six Tent Hippodrome,
Is coming down this way.
No matter if Old Nick is round
With threats to Hades jerk us,
We're going to let him do his worst
And go and see that circus.

To Advertisers.

Next Monday, County court day, the DAILY BULLETIN, as usual, will appear as a five column paper, and will print and circulate one thousand copies in this city, Aberdeen and Chester. Those who desire to use our columns that day will please send in their favors as early as possible. The paper will go to press at noon Monday.

THE Boston Globe says: No howling in these times about "rebel brigadiers." Turning Repudiators and uniting with the Republicans washed their sins away.

THREE steamboats have exploded on the Upper Ohio within the short period of eight months; the Phaeton, June 28th, killing seven persons; the Sydney, March 9th, killing ten persons, and the towboat Aetna, March 15th, killing two persons. On the Lower Ohio the Golden City disaster caused the loss of about thirty lives.

the excitement ran high, and one confirming report succeeded another. Crowds of hundreds gathered at the undertaking establishment where lay the body, at the city hall, at the court house, and, in fact, on every street corner, the almost incredible news constituting the sole object of conversation. Coroner Heddens was notified, and undertaker Sidenfaden instructed to remove the body to his establishment.

A large crowd accompanied the coroner to the morgue, but only a few, including a reporter were admitted. Nothing in the appearance of the remains indicate the desperate character of the man, or the many bloody scenes of which he had been an actor. Only the lower part of the face, the square cheek bones, the stout, prominent chin, covered with a soft sandy beard, and the firmly closed lips in a measure betrayed the determined will and iron courage of the dead man. A further inspection of the body revealed two large bullet holes on the right side of the breast within three inches of the nipple, a bullet wound in the leg, and the absence of the middle finger on the left hand. After viewing the remains, the coroner repaired to the court, whither soon after, Mrs. James, in custody of marshal Craig, and the two Ford boys, both heavily armed, followed. They were kept in separate apartments until the jury announced itself ready to hear the testimony. The jury was impaneled as follows: W. H. Chouning, J. W. Moore, Warren Samuels, Wm. Turner, Thomas Morris, W. H. George. The witnesses examined were Mrs. James, the Ford boys, and James Little. The inquest will be continued to-morrow.

THERE were one hundred and fifty-one new cases of small-pox reported at the Cincinnati Health Office during the past week and thirty-seven deaths.

THE report of Treasury operations for the past month shows a reduction of the public debt of $16,462,947. The entire debt is $1,516,782,700 less than half what it was in 1865.

EVERY Judge on the Supreme Bench save one is a partisan Republican, and the bench is now full again. Almost all the Circuit and District Judges are Republicans. So the Republicans have the judiciary pretty well packed with partisans—a state of affairs they have long been trying to bring about.

COL. McClure, of the Philadelphia Times, who has been looking over the field in Washington, has made up his mind to two things. First, the Republican party is about to plunge afresh into a carnival of plunder and corruption; and secondly, that before the close of the present Administration the party will be completely rent asunder by the conflict which he predicts between Blaine and Arthur.
